EDITOR'S NOTE

It's time for change

The volunteers success was dependent upon three factors

1. Slogging hard and often unrewarding work
2. Thickness of the ____ &
3. Enthusiam of 'contributors to contribute'

An editors an athema is neglect-neglect to write to him

neglect to constructively criticize the result of his work neglect to offer ideas and suggestions

if he deserves, neglect to praise him.

However the future success of the newsletter is & will always be cticially dependent upon the enthusiam and willingness of 'contributors to contribute'

RCSS members please 'pick up your pens' and write, contribute, criticize, cajole, comment and only if absolutely necessary, praise.

Your articles, letters, request for information and comments will be gratefully received.

I will be glad to handover the chair of the editor to a " thriving eco-system" :
with JUNE 2023 being the last edition of the current chair.

It has been a great honour and a pleasure to have edited this 20th edition of newsletter of RCSS.

President's Message

My dear Rotarians and Anns,

When we are intensely worried, our bodies respond by releasing stress hormones, which increases our heart rate and narrows our blood vessels. These two changes cause our BP to rise. So how do we overcome anxiety? One prime cause is being cut off from family and friends. The sense of isolation can be devastating. This is why in Rotary, we tend to meet each other through fellowships. During fellowships, we connect with our Rotary friends and their families and tend to forget our worries. We last had a fellowship in the month of February and it had been two months since then, so we planned a movie fellowship at a very short notice this month. I'm very happy to note that around 30 members and Anns joined for the movie on 23rd April. More than the movie show it was the sense of togetherness that increases bonding amongst the members. We look forward to such movies fellowships more in future.

This month we were able to complete our dual desks project and it gave us a immense satisfaction that we were able to donate 745 dual desks to 15 government schools. It is heart rending to see young kids, getting their primary education, sitting on the floor of the schools, weathering harsh sun and rain. Our club shall strive for more dual desks and benches donations in the coming future. I thank our CSR partners, BHEL-GE for their generous contributions towards above project and the untiring efforts of our CSR chairman, past president, Rotarian Srinivas Gumidelli.

We had a unique business meet just two days back on 29th April, whereby we invited the who's who of the corporates world and company secretaries and chartered accountants from the professional field. During this program, we felicitated the industrialists of our city by giving away business awards to them. I extend my gratitude to district governor Rotarian Talla Rajshekar Reddy for accepting our request to be the chief guest for this event. Eight other past and present district officers attended this program. A big thank you to all.

Now we are into the last two months of this Rotary year. Our club has not been able to finalise a new president elect in place as yet. Through these columns, I request all the club members, especially our past presidents to come forward and decide upon a new team for Rotary year 2023-24.

Thank you.

Rtn. Rajhans Banka

President (2022-23).

Protecting the Environment

Rotary members understand that the whole world is their backyard. They see the effects of climate change in communities they care about, and they're taking action. They're tackling the problem the way they always do: by collaborating with communities to develop solutions to local challenges, using their connections to change policy, and planning for the future. For inspiration, browse club-led environmental projects from around the world in Rotary Showcase. Through The Rotary Foundation, you can support environmental projects. Learn more about these programs and resources and send your questions to rotary.service@rotary.org.

Increase your impact

Partner with a Rotary Action Group to protect the environment

Start or expand your environmental efforts by partnering with one of numerous Rotary Action Groups that are working to protect the environment:

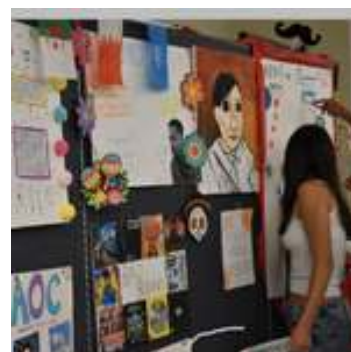

- The Rotary Action Group for Endangered Species brings together people who have expertise in protecting vulnerable creatures. The action group helps clubs and districts plan service projects that make an impact and connects them to a global network of people who are passionate about saving species. For example, the group partnered with the Rotary Club of Carpinteria Morning, California, USA, to co-sponsor a symposium on pollinators in Central America. Connect with the Rotary Action Group for Endangered Species to get involved.
- The Environmental Sustainability Rotary Action Group is one of Rotary's fastest-growing groups. With its extensive expertise, networks, and informational resources, it inspires and empowers the family of Rotary to implement effective environmental projects. These projects promote environmental sustainability, raise awareness of climate change, and take action to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and mitigate climate disruption. Contact the Environmental Sustainability Rotary Action Group to get involved.

- The Food Plant Solutions Rotary Action Group, Water, Sanitation, and Hygiene Rotary Action Group, and Rotary Action Group for Community Economic Development also undertake projects that prioritize environmental protection and conservation. They can help you complete a community assessment, design a sustainable project, find project partners, and use measurement and evaluation methods to assess your projects' progress.

Avenue of Service

Rotary's young leaders champion diversity, equity, and inclusion

May is Rotary's Youth Service Month. Our Youth Service Avenue of Service recognizes just how important it is to empower youth and young professionals through leadership development programs such as Interact. In 2022, nearly half a million Interactors embodied Service Above Self by taking on projects that supported their schools and communities.

To honor their efforts, we invite Interact clubs to submit a video, photos, or an essay that showcases their projects for the opportunity to receive funds for their next project through the Interact Awards. The winners of the 2022 Interact Awards were selected for their efforts to promote diversity, equity, and inclusion in their service projects, their club, and their community. Support Interactors by sharing the Interact Handbook: A Guide for Interactors or by connecting them with Rotary Youth Leadership Awards (RYLA) and Rotary Youth Exchange.

Enhance Engagement

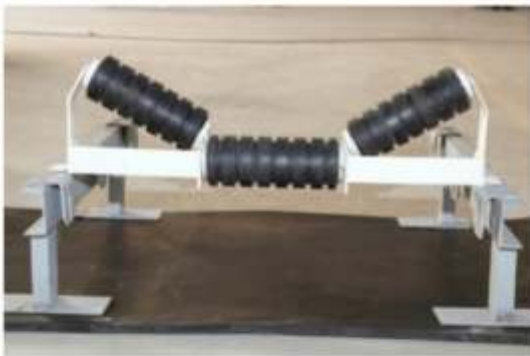

Prepare for the Rotary International Convention in Melbourne

At the 2023 Rotary International Convention, 27-31 May in Melbourne, Australia, attendees will get inspirational messages from keynote speakers, participate in a variety of service-related breakout sessions, and make new friends in the House of Friendship.

Our convention is the perfect event for discovering new opportunities through Rotary! Use the promotion kit, videos, and ideas on the Convention Promotion page to inform members about all the benefits of attending.

Rotary service motto has inspired RCSS to install 4 ROs at RTAs in Hyderabad (Tirumalgiri, Medchal , Uppal and Nagole). Ro plant helps quenching the thirst of more than 1000 to 1500 people visiting RTAs daily . All the four Ro plants were installed in 2017 and are in very well running condition till as of date 2023 . It is a divine initiation by RCSS through its Trust RSST Sponsored by Tibcon capacitors . Normally the life span of RO is 5 years specially one which installed in public areas but the keen interest of both RCSS and RTAs and regular maintenance of ROs has increased the life span of the Ro plants . As of now a committee formed by RSST consisting of Rtn Sravan Malani , Pawan Tibrewala and Sandeep Jhawar is taking care of RO plants Maintenance .

Dear Friends,

It was indeed a very memorable, satisfactory and a very successful event.

In Brief :

1 Physical meet (of organizing Committee)

20 days

5 Reputed Auditors

34 RCSS members

10 District Officials

13 Corporates (whose total aggregate turnovers could be over Rs.10,000 crores WOW)

What more can we ask for.....

From the bottom of my heart I thank each and every member who have contributed either directly or indirectly for the Grand Success of this meet.

It is just a seed sown. Let us nurture this CSR avenue and reap huge funds to serve the community at large.

The organizing Committee have really worked hard in inviting Corporates, Auditors and making arrangements for this event. Kudos to all the Committee members.

But I want to appreciate some members who have really added value to the event with their unstinted support. President Rajhans Banka and Chairman Pavanji have given their whole hearted support and were like pillars.

Lokesh as usual was the backbone of the event and has given valuable advice and also taken care of venue arrangements, singer and dinner. Ravi ladia, inspite of not being at event has really put his best efforts by arranging excellent speaker, photographer and ofcourse his valuable suggestions. Anil was very attached to this event and was instrumental in selecting beautiful awards which were appreciated by everyone. How can I forget Vikram who did a fantastic job as the MC for the event.

All in All, An event to be remembered.

Tigers roaring louder: Fifty Glorious years of Project Tiger

2019, Ranthambore National Park

Pic credit by Rohan Pamnani

The roar of our national animal, the Royal Bengal Tiger just got louder. Now we have a whopping estimate of 3,167 tigers as recently announced by our honourable PM Mr. Narendra Modi.

In 2006 the tiger number dwindled to 1411 setting the alarm bells and forcing conservationists to take aggressive and sincere measures which indeed have paid off seeing the results of the new census.

Project Tiger was launched as a major conservation programme on April 1, 1973 at Jim Corbett National Park. Initially it had only 9 tiger reserves under its fold and currently the number stands at 53. The consistent efforts pursued under the project have shown positive impact on the tiger population. Additionally it has resulted in creating greater awareness about wildlife conservation in general and sensitising public about its importance in greater run in aggregate.

Not only the efforts under the project has revived the tiger population back from the brink of extinction, it has given boost to eco-tourism, created employment opportunities and given rise to ancillary industries for the benefit of the local economy by generating employment and livelihood for the locals.

This massive project had its share of numerous challenges too and it continues to face so. Creating awareness about the project itself was a task as it required including the local population to involve directly into the conservation efforts. The biggest challenge was to move the villagers living in the reserves, outside the periphery of the reserve. The second challenge which still continues to be a big one is poaching. Tiger skin and other body parts are in huge demand in foreign markets which results in the animal being killed unethically and posing a hurdle to the efforts of the conservationists. The third challenge was funding of the project of this massive scale.

It is quite noteworthy that the Government of India and the Project Tiger team has together addressed and handled these challenges well. There was a lot of awareness raised amongst the local villagers and they have now collaborated with the team to bring about the changes we are seeing and the rewards we are reaping. The project has generated employment opportunities for the locals and created livelihood for them. They have also been trained to deal with the poachers thereby resulting in a curb if not total absence.

Some of the parks and reserves permit safaris and this has given a boost to the eco-tourism thereby promoting the local economy and creating a market for the ancillary industry to grow parallel to the project. Parks like Ranthambore National Park, Jim Corbett National Park, Tadoba_Andhari Tiger reserve, and the reserves in Madhya Pradesh are frequently visited by tourists, both Indians and foreigners.

Overall this project has not only benefitted tigers but other species too and has created more positive outcomes for our population too. India has set a benchmark in such conservation projects and other countries are taking an inspiration.

Long live the tigers!

We value your suggestion

Your opinion matters.

Like anything in this world, Rotary Club of Secunderabad Sunrise needs to remain agile and adapt to the changing needs of our tribe and community. How can we expect to continue doing 'good' in a World we can't properly understand or relate to ?

For this reason, we'd love to hear your suggestions on how we could make our club better and/or help guide Rotary International in a more modern direction.
