International Services (2024-25)

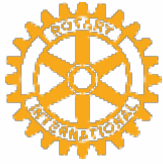

As we step into the final month of the Rotary year, the world around us reminds us of the power of unity, resilience, and service. The first half of 2025 has been momentous: from escalating climate challenges across continents to the continuing advancement of AI-driven technologies reshaping our industries, education systems, and daily lives. The global community has seen both inspiration and hardship, prompting urgent calls for sustainable development and international cooperation.

Closer to home, the brief but intense conflict between India and Pakistan this May drew global attention and concern. Though short-lived, the confrontation served as a sharp reminder of the fragile nature of peace in our region. The swift return to diplomatic dialogue—encouraged by civil society and international partners—underscored the importance of communication and goodwill. As Rotarians, we recognize our responsibility to promote peace and understanding not just across borders, but within our communities.

June also marks the end of the Rotary year—a time for reflection, gratitude, and renewed purpose. This year, we've seen our club embody the Rotary spirit through service projects, youth programs, and partnerships that have made a tangible impact. It is with great pride that we host this year's District Awards Night, bringing together clubs from across the region to celebrate the achievements of Rotarians who have gone above and beyond in service of humanity.

Let us move forward with the same energy and empathy that have defined this year. As one Rotary year closes, another begins—with fresh goals, new leadership, and enduring commitment to “Service Above Self”

Rotary Club of Secunderabad Sunrise President Message

Dear RCSS Family,

As this message goes into publication, all of you - our RCSS Family - would have been contacted by our sub committee for 'EXTRAMILERS' - the District Awards Night that we are hosting on 29.06.2025.

We intend to give this event the RCSS stamp of hosting to the next level. Your participation in helping us reach there has been solicited..... and we can see that quite a few of our members are helping us in this endeavour. We request the rest of the members to also assist us in this regard.

We request each member to tap in to secure a direct sponsor to the event..... and if not that, then at least a few adverts in the 'Magic of 3150' Yearbook (Souvenir) that we are releasing. Although the dates have lapsed on 31.05.2025, we have extended the same by a few more days to 06.06.2025. Please take this opportunity to try and get on board as many sponsors/ adverts as possible.

We are utilising this opportunity to make this event a fund raiser for the club/ trust. If we are able to raise funds then we can do larger projects for the society.

The few extra yards that we travel together in our endeavour for raising funds will make us proud of belonging to this family of RCSS even more. Thus, my sincere request to one and all to please push your selfs for the final few yards and make this event a grand RCSS success!

KUDOS TO THE RCSS EFFORT..... THREE CHEERS!!!!

14 June is World Blood Donor Day

Every year countries around the world celebrate World Blood Donor Day (WBDD). The event serves to raise awareness of the need for safe blood and blood products and to thank voluntary, unpaid blood donors for their life-saving gifts of blood.

A blood service that gives patients access to safe blood and blood products in sufficient quantity is a key component of an effective health system. The global theme of World Blood Donor Day changes each year in recognition of the selfless individuals who donate their blood for people unknown to them.

20 years of celebrating giving: thank you blood donors!

The 20th anniversary of World Blood Donor Day is an excellent and timely opportunity to thank blood donors across the world for their life-saving donations over the years and honour the profound impact on both patients and donors. It is also a timely moment to address continued challenges, and accelerate progress towards a future where safe blood transfusion is universally accessible.

The objectives of the campaign:

- thank and recognize the millions of voluntary blood donors who have contributed to the health and well-being of millions of people around the world.
- showcase the achievements and challenges of national blood programmes and share best practices and lessons learned.
- highlight the continuous need for regular, unpaid blood donation to achieve universal access to safe blood transfusion.
- promote a culture of regular blood donation among young people and the general public and increase the diversity and sustainability of the blood donor pool.

This article is authored by Deepak Kapur, chairman, Rotary International India's National PolioPlus Committee (RI-INPPC).

It would involve commitment to technological innovation, community empowerment, and collaborative action. Vaccines are one of the most effective tools in modern medicine and one of humanity's greatest achievements. India's immunisation journey began over two centuries ago when the country's first smallpox vaccine was administered in Mumbai in 1802, laying the foundation for public preventive healthcare. More than a century later, preventive immunisation began in earnest in 1948 with the adoption of the International Tuberculosis Campaign, an initiative designed to stop the potentially deadly bacterial disease that mainly affects the lungs and killed an estimated 500,000 people a year in India in the late 1940s.

Yet it wasn't until 1978 that India reached a turning point in its vaccine delivery framework and ability to deliver broader protective healthcare at scale. That year, the country launched the Expanded Programme on Immunisation (EPI) — later renamed the Universal Immunisation Programme (UIP) — providing free vaccines against 12 vaccine-preventable diseases, including tuberculosis, polio, measles, and hepatitis B for mothers and children.

Today, it stands as one of the world's largest public health programmes, and as one of the world's largest national immunisation programmes, the UIP reaches over 2.67 crore newborns and 2.9 crore pregnant women annually.

Polio eradication

Notably, under the aegis of UIP polio eradication became one of the earliest and most prominent successes for Indian healthcare. Despite the country's success in stopping polio, high population density, poor sanitation, the prevalence of marginalised and/or inaccessible communities, and vaccine hesitancy remained. These public health challenges led our government to launch Mission Indradhanush (MI) in December 2014.

MI focuses on vaccinating women and children against a host of diseases, including diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, polio, and tuberculosis, meningitis and pneumonia. The initiative has completed twelve phases so far, covering 554 districts across the country, and will continue to provide immunisation coverage to those in need.

In 2023-24, India reached full, national immunisation coverage — a milestone made possible through the consistent and extensive efforts of programmes like UIP and MI.

Alongside domestic progress, India is also ensuring global progress towards equitable access to vaccines as the largest vaccine producer in the world. Covering 60 per cent of the global vaccine supply, India is remarkably one of the biggest suppliers of low-cost vaccines in the world.

Now, AI-integrated innovations such as the Electronic Vaccine Intelligence Network (eVIN) app will help further modernise healthcare delivery.

The key to India's continued vaccine success lies in our unwavering commitment to technological innovation, community empowerment, and collaborative action.

The writer is Chairman of Rotary International India's National PolioPlus Committee.
